Summary

Commissioning Data Sets (CDS) provide nationally consistent, patient-level information on NHS-funded secondary care activity. They support commissioning, service management, tariff calculations, clinical governance, population health insights, and referral-to-treatment reporting. CDS covers outpatient appointments (including DNAs) and admitted patient care delivered by NHS providers, private patient units within NHS trusts, and independent or overseas providers delivering NHS-commissioned care. Data is securely submitted to the Secondary Uses Service (SUS) in XML format and underpins Hospital Episode Statistics (HES). As a secondary uses dataset, CDS repurposes clinical and operational data for non-direct-care purposes.
