

System Optimisation

Transformative Solutions for your Systems

Transformation programmes don't stop at the system go-live date. New functionality will be made available and there will be ongoing opportunities to optimise workflows using the newly deployed system capabilities.

Our optimisation services address each of these requirements, building on core programmes and maximising benefits for all stakeholders. Drawing on our proven real-world experience of major NHS and Social care transformation programmes, we help foster a continuous improvement approach as well as developing your organisation's transformation capacity and maximising benefits realisation.

In well-managed clinical/digital transformation programmes, some system functionality is likely to be planned for implementation after go-live and opportunities to optimise workflows utilising the new system capabilities will also be presented. Our system optimisation services address each of these requirements, building on core programmes, and maximising benefits for all stakeholders.
