Stakeholder Workshops

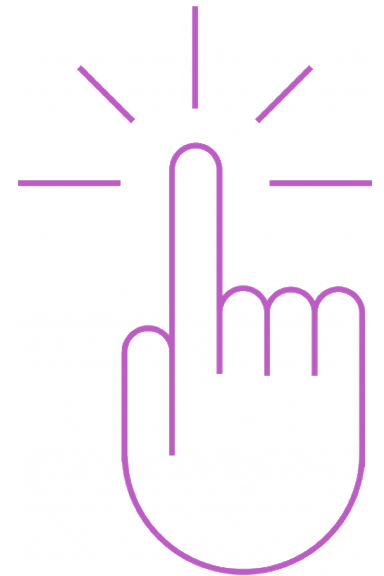

When is it right for you?

Are decisions about your strategy coming from the top down without any discussion? Are you finding that there are silos in the organisation? Do you simply want to get all the decision makers together to help them to understand, emphasise and make decisions together?

Then our Stakeholder Workshops are for you!

We create interactive exercises that bring everyone together, sharing knowledge and removing silos.

Our workshops are a chance for all stakeholders to have a voice, hear from others, understand user requirements, and ultimately create the outputs together.

Stakeholder Workshops

Features and benefits

Engage your stakeholders in the design and development of your website/app through our interactive stakeholder workshops. CIVIC will work with you to design activities that define business goals, requirements and expectations from your digital project through our collaborative sessions. You'll leave with an aligned team and clear goals.

Features

- Kick-off meeting to understand research objectives
- Stakeholder workshop script creation
- Facilitation of workshop/one-on-one interviews
- Identification and prioritisation of requirements and goals
- CIVIC will design, facilitate, analyse and report the results

Benefits

- Break down silos and gather different perspectives
- Improve communication
- Gain early stakeholder support and buy-in
- Bring clarity and ownership, a shared goal
- Define business requirements and prioritisation
- Shape the future research requirements and design direction
- Align stakeholder expectations with delivery plan
- Get stakeholder alignment on the value of user research/insight
- Create an open and transparent business culture
