

Civica Xpress

Delivering cost-effective, efficient, compliant electoral registration and election management

Civica Xpress is the UK's leading electoral management software (EMS). It provides local authorities throughout the UK with a diverse range of electoral management software and services, including apps, web services and modules that can be installed locally or deployed via virtual environments alongside true cloud components.

Our fully integrated software solutions are designed to meet the changing needs of busy electoral services teams and support them in delivering cost-effective, efficient and compliant electoral registration and election management.

Why choose Civica Xpress?

As the UK's leading provider of electoral management software, Civica Xpress is trusted by over 70% of local authorities in England and Wales.

All our systems are innovative, logical by design and simple to use, with specialist support and training for our customers provided by our experienced electoral services advisors.

Wider integration with democratic services, print and managed document services within the Civica Group offers a comprehensive end-to-end elections service.
