

Find the Breach. Stop the Threat. Restore Confidence.

Technology is embedded in every aspect of today's work environment. When a cybersecurity incident occurs, understanding what happened, why, how, and when is essential for containment, recovery, and impact assessment.

Access to digital forensic experts is crucial - they know how to uncover the answers you need.

How Sapphire can help you

Working with our incident response partners, Sapphire's digital forensic service provides clear answers when a security breach or unauthorised computer activity is suspected.

Our experts respond swiftly to:

- Pinpoint the entry point and persistence of threats
- Protect your systems and data

Every investigation is proportionate, focused on key objectives as efficiently as possible, ensuring minimal delays to recovery and helping your organisation resume normal operations quickly.

As part of their investigations our analysts:

- Collect artefacts to assess the threat actor's initial point of entry, the likelihood of data exfiltration, and the incident's root cause

Key Benefits

- Swift and expert investigations
- Determines method of entry and root cause
- Identifies extent of breach
- Focuses on recovery and resilience
- Delivers comprehensive forensic capabilities
- Rigorous evidence handling

- Investigate the use of malware or other malicious tools, advising on restoration and assessing likely threat actor activities within your environment
- Perform forensic analysis of key data and systems, both on and off your IT environments
- Follow rigorous procedures to ensure evidential integrity

Core forensic capabilities

Our service includes:

- Evidence preservation & data recovery
- Mobile device forensics
- Computer forensics (desktops, laptops, media)
- Social media & cloud repositories
- Corporate & enterprise networks
- IoT devices (wearables, drones, home-connected tech)

Sapphire's Cyber Digital Forensic service delivers the situational awareness your organisation needs and clear guidance to resolution.

Take the first step toward clarity and resolution.

CONTACT US TODAY

sapphire.net | 0845 58 27001