

HCL AppScan helps teams prevent data breaches by embedding security into every stage of the software development process. Developers, DevOps, and security teams can scan early, fix fast, and ship confidently. With Gen-AI automation and an all-in-one platform, HCL AppScan accelerates secure code delivery – built for speed, scale, and efficiency.

HCL AppScan is a powerful suite of application security tools that helps organisations quickly detect and fix software vulnerabilities – protecting apps, data, and users across the entire development lifecycle. AI-powered scanning engines (DAST, SAST, IAST, SCA, API, IaC, Secrets) rapidly and accurately test code, apps, APIs, containers, and open-source components – ensuring deep coverage across your entire stack. Centralised dashboards deliver real-time visibility, help enforce compliance, and simplify reporting – giving teams the oversight they need.
