Total Cost of Ownership

The cost of a legacy MIS system is sometimes erroneously defined as the software maintenance cost only. The true cost though is this value plus the hardware infrastructure (capital, servicing and running cost) of systems hosted by the client or the hosting costs, including licence charges for additional users. Added to this is the price paid for training and support, compatible Finance software and any 'Bolt On' applications required to augment the functionality of the legacy system, each of which has a discrete cost and support requirement. All these together are the Total Cost of Ownership of the MIS system.

Bromcom

Aggregate Procurement

Bromcom Aggregate Procurement is available for both collections of local authority schools and individual schools participating in a buying group. Schools can benefit from significant discounts by purchasing collectively as a group or individually as part of a buying group. When purchasing collectively, purchasing authorities have the option to use Bromcom's support services or those from a third-party accredited support centre. For individual purchases within a buying group, schools must provide evidence of their group participation and are expected to obtain support services from the same third-party accredited support centre.

During the transition period, we offer a Buy-Back option that enables you to switch to Bromcom and receive a discount on the cost of your new Bromcom G-Cloud contract based on what you owe your existing supplier. Details of the Buy-Back discount are provided at the end of this pricing document.

Autumn 2026 Promotional Discount

A 10% reduction on Annual Service Charges for applicable to new procurements completed by 31 December 2026.

[1] Bespoke development and private hosting fall outside the scope of the G Cloud offering and are delivered under a separate supplementary contract. Where bespoke services are commissioned alongside the G Cloud service, the Buy Back discount and the Multi School Discount do not apply.

School Purchase Pricing

During procurement, the contracting authority retains the flexibility to acquire a range of school MIS and/or Finance service packages tailored to the varying needs of primary, secondary, special, and alternative provision schools. For example, the Plus service may be selected for Primary schools, while the One-Stop-Shop option is chosen for Secondary schools.

The contracting authority can upgrade to a higher-tier service during their contract, using the contract change control mechanism.

In instances where individual schools are not subscribed to our top-tier One-Stop-Shop service, schools can choose to upgrade their service package directly through Bromcom at the following rates:

MIS Package Upgrades	Standard to Plus[8]	Plus to One-Stop-Shop[8]	Standard to One-Stop-Shop[8]
Primary	£4.40 per pupil	£2.10 per pupil	£2.00 per pupil
Secondary	£4.50 per pupil	£2.20 per pupil	£2.10 per pupil

To support Local Authorities in budgeting effectively, we provide stability and assurance even if schools close or convert to academies. With our Local Authority Aggregate Procurement Pricing, your discount rate is secured based on the initial number of schools committed in Year 1. If the number of schools decreases, we will maintain the discount rate for the remainder of the G-Cloud 15 contract, ensuring you continue to benefit from the agreed pricing level without the risk of paying a higher rate per school.

[8] Individual schools can purchase package upgrades. Note that the multi school discount applies to the aggregate procurement only.

[13] Training costs are shared when multiple schools attend training together, a practice known as clustered training. For pricing, the total number of schools is divided by 6 to determine clusters. Any remaining schools will be priced as part of clusters containing 7. This ensures training is cost-efficient, as schools benefit from sharing the cost of a single training course. Clustering is effective when schools are onboarded within a similar timeframe.

Bromcom

Buy-Back Scheme

Bromcom's Buy Back option allows a contracting authority locked into an existing MIS and/or Finance contract for its schools (referred to as the pre-existing contract) to benefit from a discount for the overlapping period[16].

To qualify for the discount, the schools associated with this contract must begin using the equivalent Bromcom service (i.e., MIS and/or Finance) as their live solution. The overlapping period used in the discount calculation begins from the day each school goes live with Bromcom services and ends at the conclusion of the pre-existing contract[17].

The Buy Back discount is implemented as a series of four annual discount credits, with one credit applied each year against the Bromcom G-Cloud annual service charge. This process is contingent upon the contracting authority providing evidence of its previous MIS and/or Finance contract cost and locked-in commitment for the remaining years.

Bromcom will calculate the cost of the previous MIS and/or Finance contract and divide it equally into four segments. Each year of your new Bromcom G-Cloud contract, you will receive one of the four segments as a discount applied to the annual service charges.

If the pre-existing contract for MIS and Finance services is split into two contracts, the total of the pre-existing MIS contract will be applied to the SaaS charges for the Bromcom MIS service, and the total of the pre-existing Finance contract will be applied to the SaaS charges for the Bromcom Finance service. In both instances, there is a total discount ceiling equal to the annual SaaS charge for the replacement Bromcom service.

To maximise the discount, your new Bromcom G-Cloud contract must be extended to the maximum length of four years for a G-Cloud 15 contract. After four years, you will have recouped the costs paid out for your previous contract for the overlapping period.

Alternatively, if the contracting authority is only able to provide evidence of its locked-in commitment, the value of the Bromcom Standard package will be used to calculate the value of the Buy Back discount during the overlapping period.

[16] Up to a maximum of two years.

[17] To be considered for the Buy-Back scheme, the annual charge from the previous contract has a ceiling equal to the annual SaaS charge of the equivalent Bromcom service.
